HARD STRUGGLE NEAR WARSAW

Russian Armies Are Holding Teutons in Check.

DELIVER COUNTER ATTACKS

Muscovites Prevent Generals von Buelow and von Hindenburg From Drawing Any Closer to Polish Capital, While von Mackensen's Austrian Troops Are Unable to Reach Railway.

London, July 29.—Although the Germans are using strong reinforcements of men and guns they have not yet succeeded in breaking the Russian resistance either around Warsaw or in Kovno and Courland provinces, in each of which sectors heavy fighting has been in progress for nearly a fortnight.

Except for the capture of the village of Gogorowo, on the Narew front, and a number of prisoners and machine guns at that point and between Mitau and the Niemen, the German official report does not claim any advance.

In fact, General von Buelow, in the north, and Field Marshal von Hindenburg, who crossed the Narew at some points, are being held up by Russian counter attacks, which, although probably costly to the Russians, show that there is still plenty of fight left in them.

In the southeast Field Marshal von Mackensen's attack on the Lublin-Chelm railway seems for the moment to have come to a standstill, although he, too, is receiving reinforcements and assistance from the Austrians, who succeeded in crossing the Bug at Sokal.

Germans Capture Village.

To the west of Warsaw the Germans announce the capture of the village of Piononov, which is almost fifteen miles west of the front line of the city; so that not much progress has been made on this front.

There is a good deal in the Russian and German official reports which cannot be reconciled, but, on the whole, the British critics are more hopeful than for some days that the Russians will succeed in withstanding this effort to capture Warsaw, as they did the previous attempt.

The stubborn resistance of the grand duke's troops together with the fact that the battle is being fought on ground of his choosing, has renewed the hope here that with a sufficient supply of munitions he will be able to inflict a strategic defeat on the German allies.

The Germans have again attacked the French in the Vosges and in Artois near Souchez in an effort to regain trenches lost during the last few days and have been partially successful in both places.

WAR IS ENDURANCE CONTEST

Premier Asquith So Informs House of Commons.

London, July 29.—The war has become, and is likely to continue for some time, a contest of endurance, Premier Asquith told the house of commons while making a general review in moving the adjournment of parliament until Sept. 14.

"We should be ungrateful and insensitive indeed if we did not recognize at this moment the indescribably gallant efforts being made by our Russian allies to stem the tide of invasion and to retain inviolate the integrity of their possessions," the premier said.

"I don't think in the whole of military history there has been a more magnificent example of discipline and endurance and of individual and collective initiative than has been shown by the Russian army in the past seven weeks."

HAS VERY LITTLE TO SAY

Governor Whitman Reiterates Belief in Becker's Guilt.

Albany, N. Y., July 29.—Justice Ford did the only thing he could do. The evidence was conclusive. If I had any doubt as to the guilt of Becker I should pardon him.

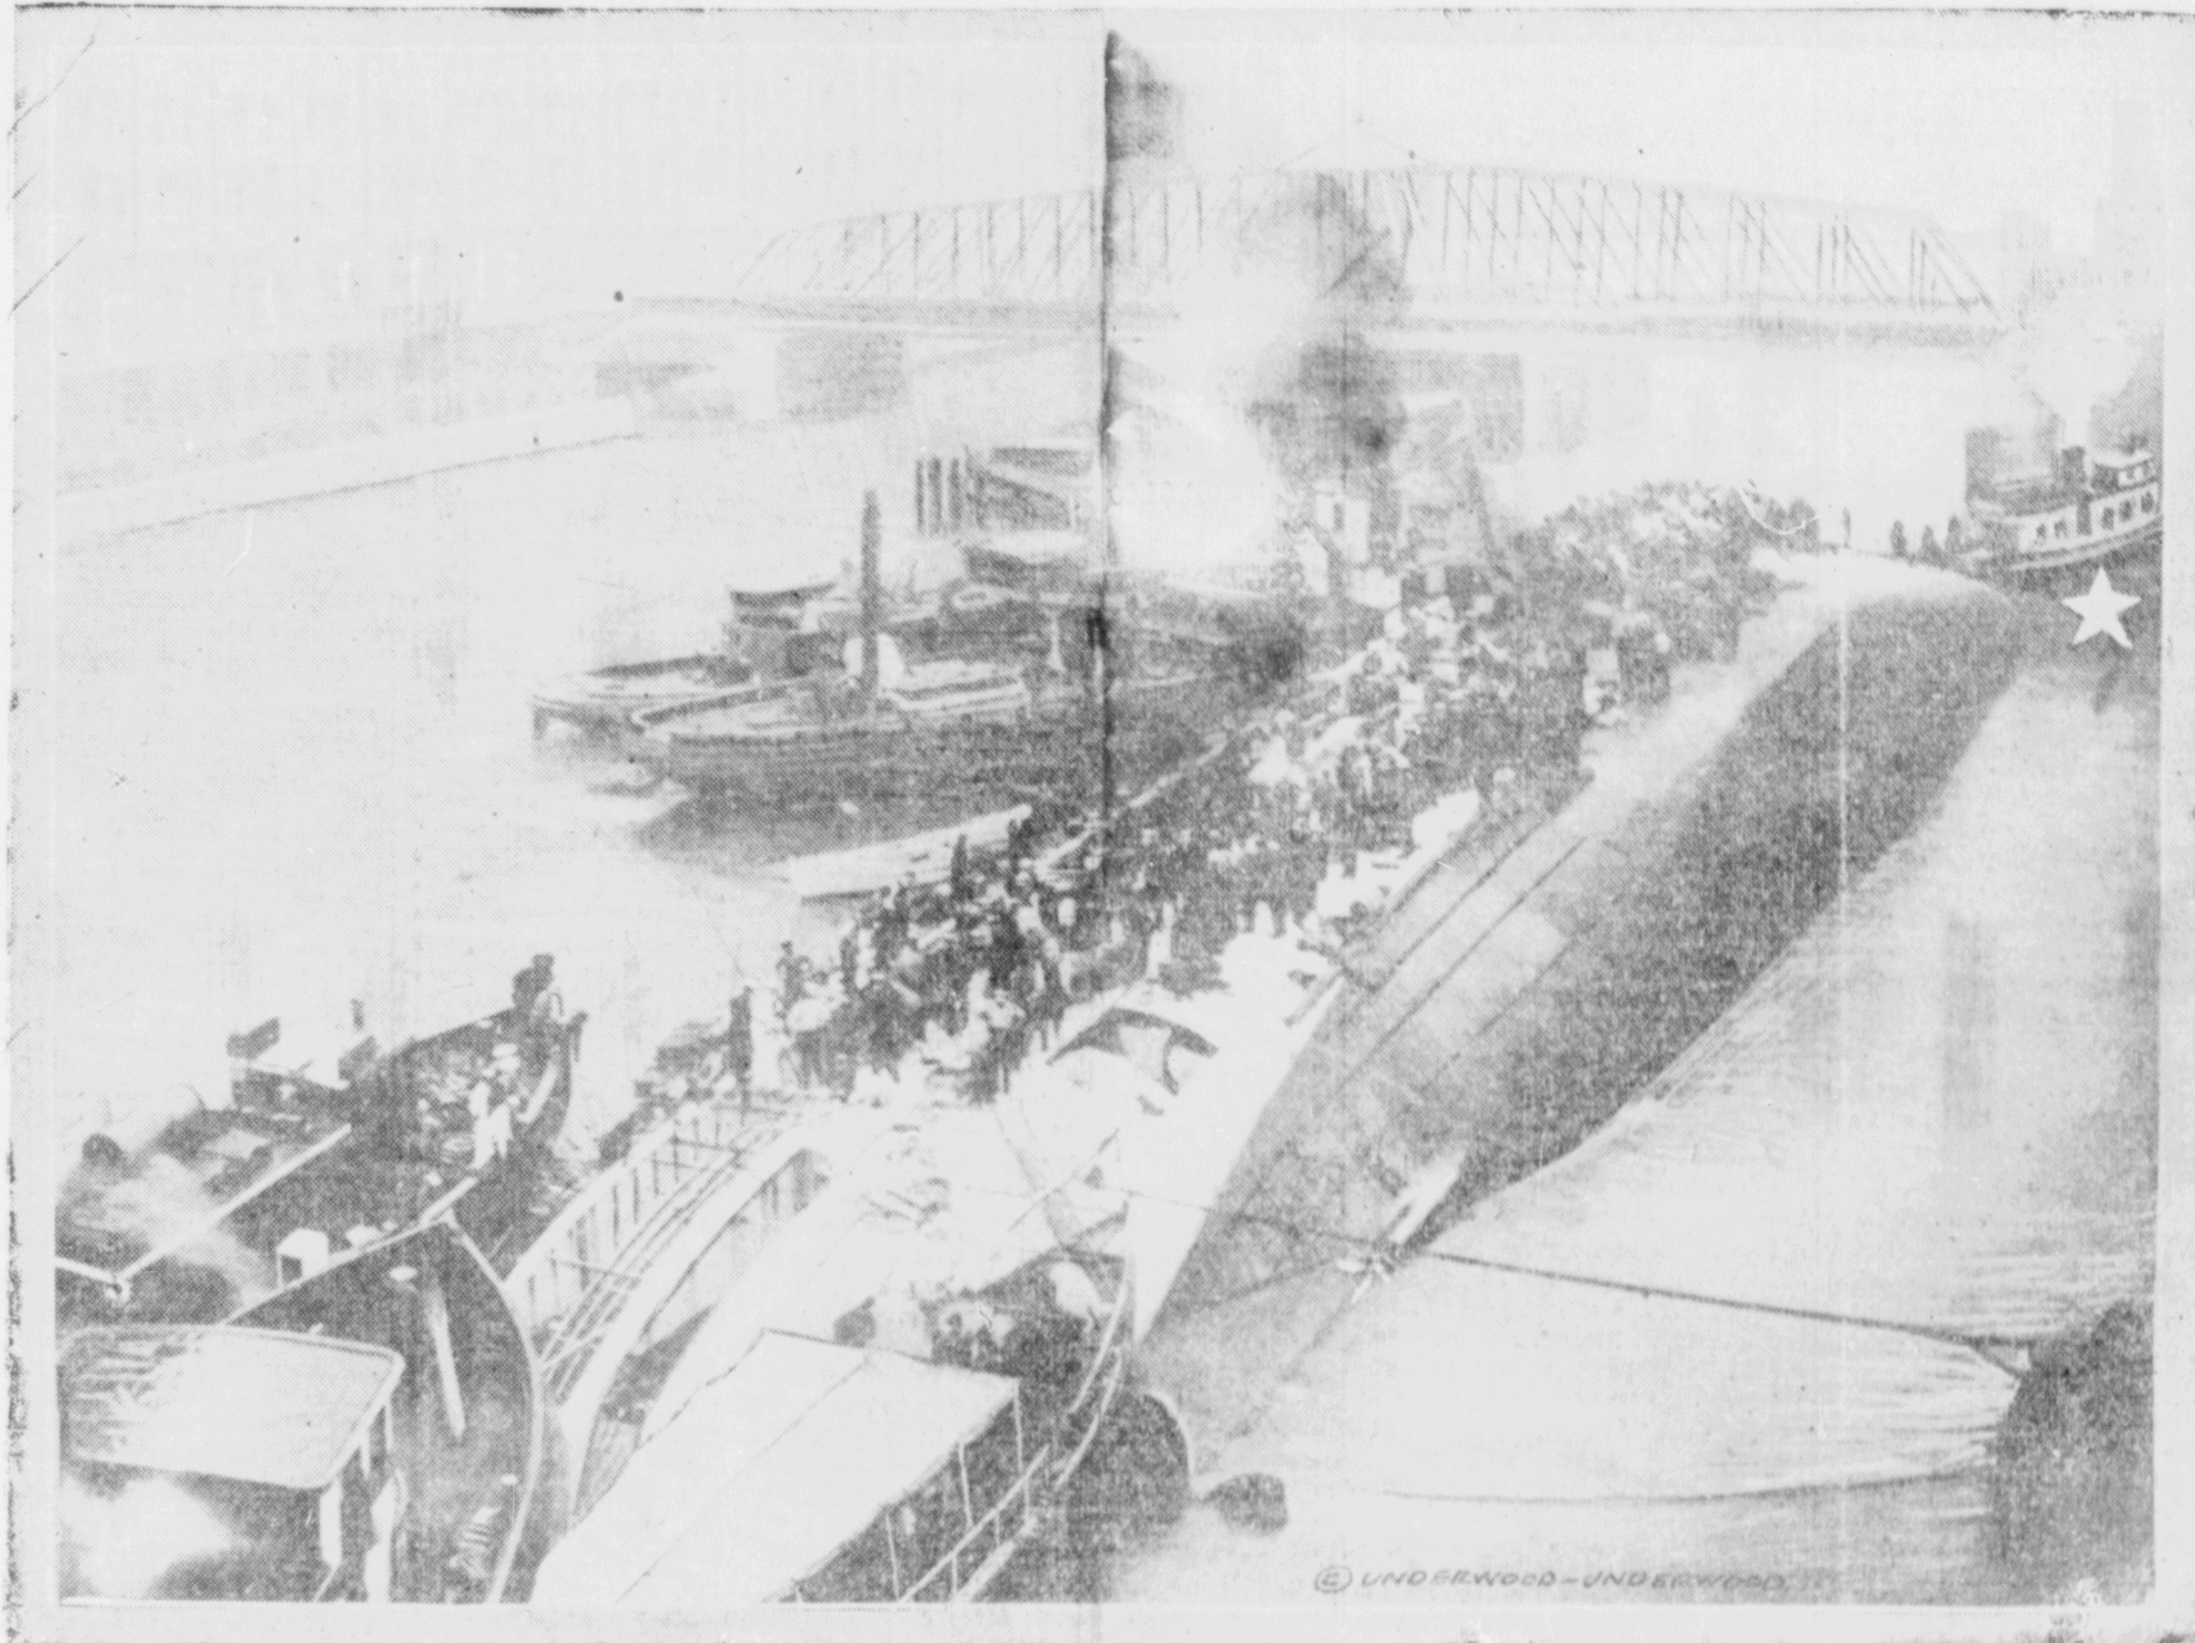

This was Governor Whitman's only comment on the refusal of Justice Ford to grant Charles Becker a new trial.

ROOSEVELT IS THREATENED

Letter Warns Him Not to Embroil United States in War.

San Diego, Cal., July 29.—Theodore Roosevelt's life "won't be worth 10 cents" if after Aug. 10 he makes any move to "embroil the United States in war with Germany," according to threatening letters received by him here. Secret service men detained a father and son for investigation.

Wreck of the Eastland in Chicago River, Where Hundreds Died

This photograph of the wreck of the excursion steamer Eastland in the Chicago River, Saturday morning, was taken an hour after the accident.

It looks toward the Clark street bridge from a point above the stern of the vessel. She is lying on her port side, and the crowd of men on the hull are the rescuers who took from the hold more than 1,000 dead. In the distance at the right is the tug Kenosha, which had a line at the bow of the Eastland to tow her to Lake Michigan. The captain of the tug, as he saw the steamship careening around with his stern against her bow and his bow against the wharf. This formed a bridge over which several hundred escaped.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN.

Oregon Lawmaker Will Assist in Army Reform.

WILL AID ARMY REFORM

Chairman of Senate Committee to Confer With Secretary of War.

Portland, Ore., July 29.—Senator George E. Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, announced that he will go to Washington a month before congress reconvenes to confer with Secretary of War Garrison and help him prepare a program for the reorganization of the army.

"The army must be increased," declared Senator Chamberlain. "The proposed program of national defense is not a party measure, but one of patriotism."

"It is not likely that the standing army will be increased beyond 125,000 men, but it will be increased to this extent, and all branches of the service will be brought to a high state of efficiency, founded on the lessons of the European war."

"So far the secretary of war and myself have agreed in our opinions of the country's needs."

AMERICAN-GERMAN SITUATION IS SERIOUS

(By United Press)

Berlin, July 29.—The American situation is the gravest possible. Ambassador Gerard is stoical, but indicates the incident closed. Mr. Gerard has steadily attempted an amicable understanding, and even cabled Washington several suggestions. There are many expressions of regret that Ambassador Gerard has been unable to see the kaiser. Gerard now considers the time past for a conference. He has not seen Bethmann-Hollweg for a long time.

GERARD WANTS CABLE ADVICE

(By United Press)

Berlin, July 29.—Ambassador Gerard has asked for cabled information of American ships leaving America when they expected to cross the war zone. He was formerly given mail advice and it is believed this was delayed as the Leelanaw is unknown here. Had advice of the Leelanaw been received it is believed possible to have saved it through cabling that advice to Williamshaven where it would be given to the submarine commanders.

RUSSIANS GETTING UPPER HAND

(By United Press)

London, July 29.—For the first time since the great German drive upon Warsaw began, the Russians have established an ascendancy over the invaders.

FRENCH SUCCESSES REPORTED

(By United Press)

Paris, July 29.—It is officially stated that French sappers tunneled under the advanced German trenches near St. Hubert, placed mines and wired them. The sappers then came back and exploded the mines, and two hundred Germans were killed outright, and several were wounded. The French charged immediately and made a slight advance. The French took Ligekopf in Alsace in the vicinity of Barrenkopf, and advanced four hundred yards.

AUSTRIAN BOATS MAKE RAID

(By United Press)

Berlin, July 29.—Dispatches from Vienna tell of a masterful raid on the Italian coast. Great damage was inflicted along the line of the Adriatic railways which follow the coast between Ancona and Pesaroud. A fleet of light cruisers evading Italian craft, got the range of the coast and destroyed a powder magazine causing a terrific explosion.

Carranza Forces Capture Pachuca

(By United Press)

Washington, July 29.—After six days' fighting the Carranza forces have captured Pachuca, stated dispatches from Carranza this morning. The column Villa sent to aid Zapata was defeated.

Will Make Last Appeal

(By United Press)

Albany, July 29.—Mrs. Becker will make a last appeal to save her husband here this evening.

Asks Pres. Wilson for Special Commission

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 29.—The aldermanic committee on harbors has asked President Wilson to appoint a special commission to probe the Eastland disaster and the history of all connections of the federal steamboat inspectors with the Eastland during its existence. They expressed the belief that the federal inspection of inspectors which Secretary Redfield is conducting does not merit public confidence. Arthur McCreary, the chief inspector of the Eastland docks, told the commission this morning what great care had been used.

Investigate Other Lake Boats

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 29.—Besides investigating the Eastland disaster, Federal District Attorney Cline announced this afternoon he will immediately begin an investigation to ascertain the safety of other lake boats.

Cabinet Minister Resigns

(By United Press)

Tokio, July 29.—Home Minister Oura has resigned following his implication in the alleged extensive bribery in the recent election. His arrest is expected and the fears that there will be a complete government upset has increased.

Demand Opening of Railway to Mexico City

(By United Press)

Washington, July 29.—The state department has announced it will immediately make strong representations to both Carranza and Villa, demanding the reopening of Vera Cruz-Mexico City railway communication. This action is based upon the department advice dated July 25, stating the Mexico City food situation is very serious.

CHARLES BECKER.

Must Die in the Electric Chair for Rosenthal Murder.

HEAVY STORM IN MONTANA

Six Persons Injured and Harvest Fields Damaged.

Butte, Mont., July 29.—Montana is recovering from one of the worst storms of recent years, according to reports received from various sections of the state.

At Livingston merchants were busy pumping water from their basements and stores after a cloudburst.

The rain and wind damaged harvest fields, railroads, telegraph and telephone lines. Hail also caused great damage at other points. Electric power lines were blown down and Great Falls was in darkness for four hours.

A Chautauqua tent was blown down at Butte and six persons injured.

JUDGE DECIDES AGAINST BECKER

Must Die in Electric Chair for Rosenthal Murder.

HEARS HIS FATE CALMLY

Former New York Police Lieutenant Will Pay Extreme Penalty for Crime on Friday Morning—Condemned Man Says He Is Not Afraid.

New York, July 29.—Justice John Ford of the supreme court denied a new trial to Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant, under sentence of death for procuring the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

The decision means Becker must be electrocuted Friday.

Justice Ford announced his decision in his chambers in a down town office building, where he had labored for two days and nights on the briefs submitted for and against the application for a new trial.

He called the waiting newspaper men into his chambers and, as his secretary handed them copies of his typewritten decision, the justice said: "I have denied the motion for a new trial. And this is my birthday. I'm fifty-three. It's a pretty tough way to spend your birthday, isn't it?"

The justice added he had planned to spend the day with his wife and daughter.

"I virtually arrived at my decision Tuesday night," said Justice Ford, "but spent many hours since then phrasing and arranging the opinion."

Then the justice chatted for several minutes on the law involved in the case he had just decided. Only newspaper men, his secretary, and brother, Michael Ford, and a clerk were present. None of Becker's counsel was there.

Mrs. Becker Visits Husband.

Mrs. Becker was said at that very moment to be visiting her doomed husband in Sing Sing.

Justice Ford's decision covered five full pages of legal cap paper and contained about 1,500 words. It goes into the details of the affidavits filed by the attorneys for Becker and declares the evidence proffered "is for the most part cumulative and hence insufficient."

Referring to the plea of W. Bourke Cockran, chief counsel for Becker, that the right to grant a new trial is inherent in the court the decision says: "I cannot find anywhere in the authorities, even acting upon the suggestion that this court possesses any such (inherent) power. On the contrary, as has been pointed out, the power is granted by statute and must be exercised in strict compliance with it."

In conclusion the court says:

"As I studied the authorities and examined the affidavits the conviction has grown upon me that it (a new trial) could not be granted without disregarding the law and attempting to usurp the functions of another department of government."

"The motion is therefore denied." Justice Ford's decision means that Becker undoubtedly will be put to death in the chair shortly after day-break Friday morning for a crime of which he was twice convicted after two sensational trials which attracted widespread interest.

RECEIVES DECISION CALMLY

Becker Tells Deputy Warden He Is Not Afraid to Die.

Ossining, N. Y., July 29.—Charles Becker, in the death house at Sing Sing prison received calmly the news that his appeal for a new trial had been denied.

Father Cashion, the condemned man's spiritual adviser, said later that Becker bore up well.

Becker had been waiting for some news and when Deputy Warden Johnson reached his cell inquired: "Have I lost?"

Mr. Johnson replied: "Yes, Charlie, I am sorry to say you have."

Becker's voice was thick as he said: "I had been hoping against hope that I would win and I am disappointed. I am not afraid to die."

ALIEN LAND LAW IS UPHELD

California Statute Declared Constitutional in Los Angeles Suit.

Los Angeles, July 29.—The constitutionality of the California alien land ownership law was upheld by Superior Judge Lewis R. Works in a decision in which he ruled that the state alone can question the right of an alien to hold land.

The decision gives N. Oka, a Japanese, the right to foreclose a mortgage on a lot given by Mrs. Mary Loop as security for a loan of $1,500. The mortgage was executed after the alien law became effective.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys;
to neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Ossining, N. Y., July 29—"You

Becker's message following the court's refusal to grant him a new

ALFALFA DONATION PLEASES FARMERS

Bay Lake Rural Progressive Club
Community Picnic Enthusiastic
About Donation

OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Arrangements Made for More Seed for Distribution at Cost Price
—Details Given

So enthusiastically have the farmers of the county received the alfalfa seed which was donated by the Chamber of Commerce to the Federation of Farmers' clubs at Bay Lake July 16th, that a resolution was adopted at last night's meeting of the Chamber which will give every farmer in the county the opportunity of procuring any desired quantity of alfalfa seed at actual cost, carrying charges free. The resolution adopted was as follows:

"Resolved that the Chamber of Commerce of Brainerd in order to expedite an alfalfa campaign, will receive orders for any amount of Grimm alfalfa seed at cost, or 50 cents a pound, to be sown in August of this year in Crow Wing county. That we will pay the freight on any seed so purchased and furnish proper inoculation cultures free to such farmers who order alfalfa seed on or before August 12."

P. B. Nettleton, chairman of the Special Committee, who had charge of the arrangements and through whose efforts the alfalfa seed was distributed, reported in detail for the committee outlining the many propositions which were presented to the farmers. The committee report as adopted was as follows:

July 28th, 1915.
Chamber of Commerce,
Brainerd, Minn.
Gentlemen:

Your Special Committee to arrange for the Community Picnic at Bay Lake, July 16th, 1915, submits its report therefore as follows:

There were about fifty automobiles enlisted who took out about seventy farmers besides their own families and friends. All invited farmers who appeared at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters were taken out and none were left at Bay Lake who reported for the return trip up to 6 P. M. We estimate there were about 300 people attended the picnic from Brainerd.

The committee arranged for 15 minutes of time on the program. This time was used by Former President G. P. Sheridan in responding briefly and forcefully to the welcoming address. The balance by the committee in presenting out four propositions, viz:

1st. In presenting the $100 worth of the best Grimm alfalfa seed to the Federation of Farmers' clubs for distribution among the various clubs, in all 200 pounds in one pound packages as per printed letter and bulletin furnished to President Henderson and with each package a copy as attached herewith.

2d. An offer of the First National and Citizens State banks of Brainerd to loan money on acceptable notes at 6% to farmers for the purchase of improved dairy stock or in building silos.

3d. An offer of the commissioners of the county to allow the use of the court room for farmers' meetings when not otherwise engaged.

4th. An offer of the city of Brainerd through Mayor R. A. Belse of the use of the Rest Room in the new city hall for the use of farmers and their families also the use of the municipal court room for farmers' meetings.

Each proposition was received with marked interest and appreciation publicly acknowledged and thanks returned by President Henderson. Three hearty cheers were given for President L. P. Hall led by C. E. Hansling.

330 silk badges were provided and distributed to Chamber members, visitors, farmers and their families at the picnic. All wore them with pride and pleasure.

The cost of the badges were within the $15 appropriation the exact expense being $14.50. Special badges were printed for the president, three for the secretaries, two marshals and one for President Vincent of the University of Minnesota. Special recognition and thanks are due and thanks tendered to committee members, Iver Benson and his able assistant, Thos. Welsh, to whom the credit for rounding up automobiles is largely due also for looking after our farmer guests.

The owners of automobiles who donated their machines and who carried invited farmers and their families to and from the picnic are deserving the cordial thanks of the Chamber.

It is unnecessary to add that Secretary Hansling was active and thoughtful in all matters of detail coming under his jurisdiction.

It is believed that the object for which this expedition was organized was successfully accomplished and that good results will follow.

Respectfully,
(Signed) P. B. NETTLETON,
Chairman Special Committee.

A resolution commending the efforts of President L. P. Hall of the Bay Lake Progressive club together with other officers was introduced and adopted, a copy of which will be mailed to the club's president. Following is a copy of the resolution:

"Resolved, that the Chamber of Commerce of Brainerd at its first meeting following the notably successful Community Picnic held at Bay Lake July 16th, 1915, under the auspices of the Bay Lake Rural Progressive club, to which this Chamber was courteously invited, that we take this occasion to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many evidences of good will and friendship there received and that we particularly commend and recognize the good work unobtrusively performed by President L. P. Hall of the Bay Lake Rural club.

We also highly commend the faithful work of President D. C. Henderson of the Crow Wing County Federation of Farmers' clubs for his manifest interest and persistent work in behalf of the important organization of farmers over which he has the honor to preside. To each and every organization working along these lines we desire to extend a helping hand and cordial good wishes."

Little business other than routine matters was taken up by the Chamber last evening while the attendance was small owing to the band concert at Gregory park. During the summer months but few matters will be taken up by committees though an extended campaign of work has been outlined to be taken up early in September.

Walker Pilot Says Remonstrance is Made Against Proceeding Occurring Recently

The Walker Pilot is authority for this news concerning the activity of the Indian department.

"Some of the baggage of the Congressman Chipperfield party of Illinois was broken into by Indian secret service men, and Mr. Chipperfield lost no time in warning up the wires between here (Walker) and Washington, remonstrating against the outrage. Congressman Chipperfield will seek a thorough investigation."

The Chipperfield family is well known in Brainerd. The congressman was recently elected congressman-at-large of Illinois. A brother at one time served as county attorney of Crow Wing County.

Reports reaching Brainerd are to the effect that a suit case of a niece of Congressman Chipperfield was among the baggage searched, such examination alleged to have been made before the party arrived.

LOCAL FANS ALL PREDICT VICTORY

Believed Brainerd Will Win From the "Ore Diggers" From Ironton
as it Has in the Past.

JARVELA TO BE ON THE MOUND

Al Victor Will be on the Slab for Brainerd, Confident Few Hits
Will be Allowed

Local fans are predicting a victory for Brainerd next Sunday when the team from Ironton lines up for its second game of the season. In a recent interview with an ardent backer of the range team it was learned that the ore diggers are determined to win this second game and are taking no chances in the way of procuring crack players but rather have added to their regular line-up a number of out-of-town artists who are said to be sluggers well up in the .350 class. Jarvela, the iron man, who held the Duluth team last Sunday to a tie score for 10 innings will be on the mound with young Paulson on the bench while the Petraborg boys from Aitkin will be seen in the line-up as usual. Since the disbanding of the Superior team several of the players have donned range town suits which has materially strengthened their defensive work and no doubt will force the local boys to extend themselves every minute of the game in order to win.

Never in the history of baseball in this section has there been quite as much rivalry shown as this year and the backers of each team are unloosening their purse strings by making all kinds of freak bets. Al Victor who will be on the mound for Brainerd, is confident that he can hold his opponents to fewer hits than those garnered by Little Falls last Sunday and with gift-edge support by his team-mates the score should be in favor of the All-Stars.

The game scheduled with St. Cloud for August 4th which will be played in the forenoon as the opening gun for the Merchants and Clerks picnic will no doubt be one of the most interesting and hotly contested yet seen on the local diamond. The team from the Granite City is said to be a high salaried aggregation and composed of a number of well-known state stars. As soon as the line-up is received the names of the players will be published and is being awaited with interest by the fans.

COLLECTS COUNTY EXHIBIT

Agricultural Committee of Chamber Arranging For Best Exhibit
Ever Made by County

The Crow Wing county exhibit at the Minnesota State Fair this year is expected to be the most representative ever made in the history of the county. The agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce who have undertaken the collection of samples and the arrangement of the booth, report that farmers over the entire county are taking a keen interest in this year's showing. Already a great many specimens of grains and grasses have been collected while a number of farmers have agreed to furnish special samples of farm products as soon as matured. Through the county agricultural agent an appeal is being made to every farmer in the county to give particular attention to the collection of high class specimens and samples which will be collected and assembled by members of the committee in ample time to be shipped to the fair. Iver Benson who has been placed in charge of this year's exhibit, is diligently at work making trips into the rural districts collecting samples of wild and tame hay together with sheaves of field grains which will be arranged in bundles and displayed in a uniform design.

PLANT ALFALFA

Farmers So Advised by P. B. Nettleton of Special Committee of
Chamber of Commerce

To the Editor:

A letter received today from A. B. Lyman, the Grimm alfalfa grower of Minnesota, says, "You need not hesitate to advise your farmers to plant this seed as late as early August. Small lots of seed could be planted to great advantage with a garden drill in rows of 16 or 12 inches apart. If planted this way, one pound will cover one fifth of an acre."

I suggest that interested farmers should get 5 pounds of this Grimm seed at once and plant one acre as above. This would cost only $2.50.

The Chamber of Commerce will pay the freight and furnish the inoculation culture free for the purpose of stimulating quick action. Orders should be in my office by August 12th with the cash. We get nearly one year's start by planting now.

MERCHANTS-CLERKS PICNIC PROGRAM

Arrangements Committee Announces the Program for the Day of Picnic, August 4

AN OLD FASHIONED PICNIC

2,000 Farmers Invited—Boats Chartered for Free Excursions—
Dancing, Baseball

The Merchants and Clerks will hold their annual picnic on Wednesday, August 4th, at Lum park on Rice lake in Brainerd. It will be a real old fashioned picnic, partaking also of the nature of a community picnic because invitations have been addressed to 2,000 farmers of the county.

Boats have been chartered for free excursions while music will be furnished by both the City band and a high class orchestra. There will be dancing afternoon and evening.

At 9:30 in the morning there will be the big ball game at the Koering grounds, Brainerd vs St. Cloud, and the band will play and preceding the game a greased pig will be turned loose and the party capturing the same may keep him.

A program of field sports of all kinds has been provided which will be held at Lum park, the scene of the picnic. Other special features have been added for the farmers. Coffee and lemonade will be served free. Following is a tentative program for the day:

1. Tug-of-war, Merchants vs Farmers, prize $10 cash.
2. Back-to-back race, free for all. First prize $3, second prize $2.
3. 100 yard dash. Free for all, first prize $5, second $3.
4. 50 yard dash, for boys under 15 years. Free for all, first prize $2, second $1.
5. 50 yard dash for girls of any age. Free for all, first prize $3, second $2.
6. Gasoline launch race, free for all, first prize $8, second prize $4.
7. Climbing greased pole, free for all, prize $5 gold piece at top of pole.

Programs and a lot of other literature have been distributed about the county and from the interest already shown this picnic promises to be the largest ever held in the county.

Statement, Other Matters

All members of the water and light board were present last evening. President P. W. Donovan presided.

J. A. Johnson, of 611 South Tenth street, claimed that his meter rate for water July 1, 1914, to July 1, 1915, $12.74, was excessive. The board on consideration advised him to pay his bill as rendered.

Ole Peterson, 324 North Tenth street, wanted a water service line to the property line of his premises. The service was ordered extended on Mrs. Peterson signing the application, she being the owner of the property.

F. Senti, of 722 Oak street, wanted a reduction in water rate.

Chas. Paylo and Matt Volkmer addressed the board regarding water service on Southeast Maple street. It was left with Commissioner Rowley to confer with Felix Graham and report at the next meeting.

The case of S. J. Bierhaus, using lights not registered through a meter, was discussed and the secretary was instructed to collect the minimum charge for the period since October, 1913. The secretary was further advised to confer with the city attorney.

John Hughes charged that damage had been done his bath tub, claim-

ONE YEAR OF THE GREAT WAR

AS SEEN IN ENGLAND

BY ED. L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
FOURTH STORY.

London, July 29—"Are we downhearted? No!"—with a heavy accent on the "no."

This is the slogan of British football fans in the bleachers (or the English equivalent thereof) when the home team appears to be getting the worst of it. And the more precarious the situation the heavier the accent.

Since the failure of the Anglo-French spring offensive in Flanders, the disastrous defeats of the Russians, the news of the unsatisfactory progress of the Dardanelles campaign, the development of the Fisher-Churchill scandal, the French-Kitchener row, and the disclosures regarding Britain's woeful lack of the implements of warfare, culminating in the disruption of the Cabinet, this attitude of the bleachers has become the attitude of the British public.

And when the British public says it is not downhearted it means it. Proof of this lies in the splendid fashion in which the workmen of the nation have answered the call for industrial reinforcements (hear in mind that 80 per cent of the British public consists of workmen, their women and children); also in the marvelous response to the Prime Minister's appeal for an adequate supply of silver bullets. Never in the history of any nation has a popular war loan met with such success.

For the apathy displayed by the masses in the first ten months of the war the British government has only itself to blame. The leaders of the nation made the mistake of entrusting the entire conduct of the war on land to one man—perhaps a military genius, but with serious limitations on the human side, including an utter inability to understand the civilian temperament. For seven months the war was conducted in secret. Through the anonymous "Eyewitness" the public was fed with an occasional optimistic but colorless story from the front, the burden of which was that everything was going along splendidly, that the Germans were losing heart, that they had been compelled to put their old men and young boys in the firing line—and always conveying the impression that ultimate victory was a foregone conclusion. Not until March was a single newspaper correspondent permitted at the front, and even then they were not allowed to tell the whole truth.

No wonder enlistments were slow.

AS SEEN IN GERMANY

CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
FOURTH STORY.

Berlin, July 29th.—In the western campaign Germany met new conditions of modern warfare and overcame them before the enemies were able to do so. In the eastern war area old conditions of fighting have prevailed throughout the twelve months, and Germany again has shown that she is as skillful with the old as with the new.

The more valuable territory which has fallen to German arms in this war is Belgium and northern France. These conquered districts are far more wealthy than are the captured Polish and Baltic areas. Yet, without doubt, the chief glories of the German armies have been won in the east. Germany is proud of the year's magnificent record in the west, but it is the march of events in the east that thrills the German people to their very souls. In popular imagination, the night of the Russian Empire was the most disquieting fact of the war.

This belief was encouraged by the general feeling that if Germany were to hold her own in the great war, France must be overwhelmed before Russia's mighty millions could be mobilized. But Russia came on before France was overwhelmed. Germany had to meet her enemies on two fronts at once. The people of the empire trembled last summer as Russia's hordes crept further and further into East Prussia while the campaign against the western allies was yet to reach its height. Germany was not afraid of the western campaign, but the fact is privately confessed that the Germans did fear the outcome of the Slavonic rush.

Then, almost over night came the news that the battle of the Masurian Lakes had been fought and had resulted in one of the greatest victories for Germany in all history. Seldom is a nation thrilled even in wartime as Germany was thrilled by the news that Marshal von Hindenburg had cleared East Prussia of the invaders. Nothing that has happened since and nothing that is likely to happen will equal in Germany's estimation the brilliance of von Hindenburg's success. Until the Masurian battle, Germany was not sure of her self. Von Hindenburg gave confidence to his country and demonstrated so absolute a superiority over the Russians that the fear of the Slavs vanished as light dispels the terrors of the dark. Von Hindenburg turned the light on the Russians and they are now the chief inspiration of the contributors to Germany's numerous weeklies.

Warsaw has not yet fallen, but instead the Germans have captured Russia's great Baltic Port of Libau, which is second in importance only to Warsaw and Riga, as an eastern objective. The Baltic operations, in fact, would be considered a worthy record of the year's warfare against Russia even if nothing else had been accomplished on that side of Europe. But in fact, the Baltic campaign ranks last in importance among the three great offensives which the Germans have successfully developed against the Slavs since last August. The first of this is the advance across western Poland to the gates of Warsaw. Germany believes this drive alone, coming after the earlier retreat from Warsaw, is a greater success, judged purely as a military problem, than all the victories that the allies can claim.

Second to importance among successes against the Slavs is the freeing of Galicia. This campaign is ranked in Germany as an offensive one, differing from the rescue of East Prussia, which was a defensive thrust. The Galician province, was German territory but had passed almost entirely under Russian control when the Germans undertook to rescue it for Austro-Hungary. The offensive campaign developed by Marshal von Mackensen during the last three months is specially praised by German critics, because the Slavs had so long a time to prepare their defenses. When the Galician operations began it was becoming the general conclusion of militarist students that a properly entrenched army could not be driven back for any considerable distance. The Germans, however, showed that it could be done.

The winning of Galicia has bound Austro-Hungary closer to the German Empire, and has banished all hope among the allies of enticing Vienna or Budapest into making a separate peace. Fully as important too, the Galician campaign has been the culminating influence which is preventing the neutral Balkan countries from entering the war. The diplomatic work of maintaining the neutrality of Rumania, Bulgaria and Greece has caused many sleepless night at the German foreign office in the past months.

Perhaps when the historians begin to write about the events of the past year, they will rank above everything else in importance, the influence which Germany's mighty victories in the east has had on the Balkan states. If the three southeastern neutrals had joined the allies, earlier in the war, when Russia's strength was at its full, Germany doesn't like to think about the possible consequences.

AS SEEN IN FRANCE

WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
FOURTH STORY.

Paris, July 29th.—General Joe Joffre must be enumerated among the great French successes of the first twelve months of the war.

This goes as it stands, whatever he may or may not do in the future. I say this because Joffre is not without his critics. There are those who say he ought to move faster.

Joffre already deserves the undying gratitude of his country if he never strikes another blow. He refused at Charleroi to sacrifice his men for a brilliant but temporary success though he must have known the country was waiting for him to make good; he ordered that soul-sickening retreat before a superior foe when he knew that every heart in France was weighted down by the doubt concerning him and his army; he patiently sought and seized the opportunity he was looking for, then instantly transformed the swift German advance on Paris into a disorderly retreat; he stopped short the mighty second German offensive in the west against the Channel ports and pinned his enemy down for a long winter trench campaign where he held the advantage; he won the confidence of his men, individually the most intelligent soldiers in the world, giving them reason for their cheerful courage which never faltered even on coldest, wettest mid-winter days.

Lastly, but by no means least, he so handled his resources in material and men that now, at the beginning of the second year of the war the French army is the finest fighting body in the world. Joffre was the one man in France's forty million for the job.

At that, Joffre was an accident. That France had the right man for the place and at the moment he was most needed, was almost pure accident, for her system of running the army, until a year or so before the war broke out, was not calculated to develop the man for the job.

For some reason France had not seen fit to nominate a generalissimo, a commander-in-chief of her army, until just prior to the war. There was simply a board of generals and this board was supreme.

Manoeuvres were conducted just as one would expect a board to conduct them. The Blue army, under one set of generals, would take such and such a position at such and such a time. The Red army, under another set of generals, would oppose the Blues and to do this they would hold such and such a line. The action would begin at a specified time, would take a specified form and cease at a pre-arranged hour, the Blues and Reds then to be occupying this or that position.

For a given number of days this sort of thing would continue until the final event which took place before the president of the republic and his guests, foreign military attaches, and the rest, whose tinseled tents were pitched on the eminence overlooking the field where the climax (according to arrangement) would unfold itself.

Suddenly all this was changed. Joffre came on the scene. The general unrest in Europe showed to France the unwisdom of letting this situation continue, and Joffre was named Generalissimo of the army. How he came to be named is not clearly known; I have heard that General Pau was the first choice, but he, for reasons of his own, thought Joffre ought to be named. And Joffre it was.

Joffre was destined to have but one go at playing war before actual war began, but he changed the rules radically for this one. He gave the Blue army a city and its surrounding country to hold and he told the Red army to take it. He told them to go to it. All methods were good, there was no "time out" for anything and he hoped the best man would win.

There was the dickens to pay, of course. Easy-going officers were left far behind; incompetency developed in unlooked-for places; whole commands got captured, generals commanding, staffs and all. There were all sorts of mix-ups, but Joffre looked on and took in every detail. The newspapers hinted that the maneuvers were a fiasco and that French army was in a bad way. But Joffre considered the game was and the most successful he had ever witnessed.

He had found the weak spots in the machine and knew how to apply the remedy. He applied it and a number of officers were retired.

War caught Joffre in the middle of his reorganization. But he fought it out like a man until he won a breathing spell, then he dispassionately continued his merciless lopping off of official heads. His generals now average 10 years younger than at the start and he has a tried man at every part of the line.

Joffre has accomplished all this in a year.

HOW IT ALL HAPPENED

Little Falls Transcript Tells How Little Falls Lost the Sunday Game with Brainerd

Under the heading, "Little Falls again Beaten, Brainerd Jinx is Still on the Job and Shopmen Win Sunday, Errors Play Big Part in Game at Brainerd—Pitching Honors Even," the Little Falls Transcript tells how their team was defeated:

Little Falls was defeated Sunday at Brainerd by a score of 5 to 1, in a game in which errors played a large part and hit a small one. The Little Falls outfield was responsible for four of the Brainerd scores, according to their teammates' figuring, and the other one was earned, or nearly so.

The infield also played badly at times and the entire team was weak with the stick. Langerbauer held the Brainerd hitters down and kept the hits scattered, but his support gave way at times and the runs came in in spite of his pitching. Victor pitched for Brainerd and also pitched a good game, but his support was very much better than Langerbauer's. The Brainerd team also was lucky a couple of times. Once a clean, hard hit struck the pitcher's foot and bounded into the hands of the shortstop, cutting off a Little Falls run.

Brainerd's first two runs were made on outfield errors, the third came in on two two-baggers over the fence and the other two were made on errors.

Little Falls' lone tally was counted when Longley walked, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Hall's infield out.

Brainerd has no reason to complain of lack of Little Falls attendance at Sunday's game, as over 25 automobiles from this city made the trip, carrying more than 100 people. Brainerd, it is said, entertained the usual crowd on the hills.

NO man is safe in saying he'll never switch on his chewing, till he's chewed the Real Tobacco Chew. Everyone knows that some tobaccos are better than others but no one knows how good tobacco really is till he chews "the little chew that satisfies."

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

((Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.))
